

Villagers to Find 56 Cent Hike on Tax Bills

Total Is
$5.434
Per $100

Taxes, which few things are more certain, are destined to take a bigger bite than ever from Palm Springs pocketbooks this year.

Village property owners who last year enjoyed the rare luxury of a two-cent tax cut were today informed that their new tax rate has soared 56 cents above the amount levied in 1957-58.

CITY RESIDENTS will find their 1958-59 tax bill computed on a tax rate of $5.434 per $100 of assessed valuation, according to unofficial tabulation of figures released today by County Auditor Ray T. Hicks.

Last year, taxes were set at approximately $4.866, a decrease of two cents from the previous year's tax rate.

What caused the current tax rate to skyrocket?

WELL, ACCORDING to an itemized list of taxes levied for the various districts encompassed by the city, property owners are paying taxes on items new to the tax rolls, in addition to increased rates in perennial tax items.

For instance, the new Coachella Valley Junior College District carries a 25-cent tax rate, while Palm Springs City taxes have jumped from $1.144 to $1.346.

ON THE OTHER side of the ledger, some taxes have dropped. Palm Springs Unified School District has cut almost three cents from its annual levy, the Cemetery District is down four cents and the hospital taxes have dropped almost two cents.

Similar tax pictures were reflected in Desert Hot Springs and Cathedral City areas. Residents of the DHS area will pay on a rate of about $4.815, as compared to $4.503 last year.

Cathedral City area taxpayers face a $4.238 rate.

In a breakdown of the various tax districts within the City of Palm Springs, figures released by Hicks show that Villagers will pay out 1958-59 taxes in the following amounts:

Riverside County tax	$1.640
Palm Springs City tax	1.346
School District	1.298
School bonds and interest	.260
Cemetery District	.062
Flood Control District	.133
Hospital District	.060
Hospital bonds and interest	.041
Mosquito Abatement Dist.	.220
Coachella Valley Jr. Coll.	.250
Junior College tuition	.124

Total $5.434

For Desert Hot Springs taxpayers, the district taxes are itemized as follows:

Riverside County tax	$1.640
School District	1.298
School bonds and interest	.260
Road District No. 4	.200
County Fire District	.140
Highway lighting	.066
Mosquito Abatement Dist.	.220
Recreation, parks, parkways	.187
Water District	.134
Flood Control	.133
Hospital District	.060
Cemetery District	.062
Hospital bonds and interest	.041
Coachella Valley Jr. Coll.	.250
Junior College tuition	.124

Total $4.815

Here's the tax breakdown for Cathedral City area:

Riverside County tax	$1.640
County Fire District	.092
Sanitary Maintenance Dist.	.038
Flood Control	.133
Cemetery	.062
Hospital District	.060
Hospital bonds and interest	.041
School District	1.298
School bonds and interest	.260
Coachella Valley Jr. Coll.	.250
Junior College Tuition	.124
Mosquito Abatement Dist.	.220

Total $4.238

It was pointed out that junior college tuition tax, as distinguished from the Coachella Valley Junior College District tax, is used to pay tuition of area students attending junior colleges elsewhere in the county.

Russia to Aid Red China in Case of War

Warning Issued As U. S. Accused Of Planning Attack

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said today the entire Communist bloc including Russia would rush to the support of Communist China if war develops in the Far East. Izvestia and the Communist Party organ Pravda said Russia would aid Peiping with all possible means "just as if its own fate were being decided."

PRAVDA ACCUSED the United States of planning aggression against the Chinese mainland and said Russia "cannot remain inactive."

"The U.S.S.R. cannot remain inactive in the face of what's happening on the borders of the territory of her great ally," Pravda said.

"Russia will not watch quietly United States military preparations in the Pacific whose waters also wash Soviet shores."

IT WAS THE second warning to appear in Pravda this week and it came after diplomatic sources said Premier Nikita Khrushchev had cut short his Crimean vacation to return to Moscow and take care of "urgent matters."

Pravda said the United States had assigned Formosa the role of main base in "its aggressive plans" against the mainland and earmarked Quemoy and other offshore islands as the "springboard for attack against the Chinese peoples republic."

PRAVDA SAID THE Chinese Communists are strong enough to counter any aggression and are backed by "all the Asian, African, Latin American and European peoples."

It said Russia would give the Chinese Communists "every kind of aid and bridle the adventurous war provocateurs who have grown insolent and rash."

Fire at Dump Brings Calls

Firemen could do nothing but control a blaze which broke out in the Palm Springs disposal site last night and let it burn out, as hundreds of telephone calls of inquiry and complaint were received by both stations.

The fire started from an undetermined cause and flames leaped high into the night sky, causing a red glow on the eastern horizon.

The calls were received mostly from residents of the Country Club Estates and the Desert and Veterans Tracts.

Red Chinese Planes Cause Raid Alerts

Matsu Islands Threatened In New Scare

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — The Communists threw two waves of warplanes over the northern part of the Formosa Strait today, setting off air raid alerts in the offshore Nationalist-held Matsu Islands.

The Defense Ministry said an undisclosed number of Russian-built MIG jet fighters were sighted west of Matsu this afternoon. An air raid alarm was sounded on the island for five minutes.

A SECOND WAVE of Communist warplanes of unidentified type flew west of Matsu a couple of hours later, setting off another short air raid alert, the Defense Ministry said.

No combat was reported with Nationalist planes in either case. Today's flights were the first announced sightings of Red Chinese warplanes over the Formosa Strait since Nationalist Sabre jets shot down two MIG17s near Quemoy Aug. 25.

THE RENEWED aerial incursions came as Communist artillery shelling continued into the 14th day, but on a smaller scale. Only 60 rounds were fired at Little Quemoy during the early part of the day.

Amid these developments, Vice Adm. Wallace M. Beakley, commander of the U.S. 7th fleet, sped to Taipei from a Formosa Strait patrol to confer with American and Nationalist Chinese military commanders on the growing threat of war in the far East.

Hammaraskjold, Nasser Confer For Four Hours

CAIRO (UPI) — United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic discussed Middle East tensions in a 4½-hour session ending at 1 a.m. today.

Previously Hammarskjold had met for 9½ hours with U.A.R. Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi in an attempt to reach agreement on the role the United Nations should play in helping to oversee peace in the Middle East.

Thursday night's meeting of Hammarskjold and Nasser was their first since the U.N. diplomat arrived here early this week. There was no word on a further meeting.

William Mueller, shapeliest legs; Sandy Perry, most beautiful; Judith Parker, smallest ankles, and Sue Raymond, cutest dimpled knees. Winners were selected by the audience, with the men voting for the women and vice versa. Merchandise prizes were awarded, and Mueller and Mrs. Perry were crowned King and Queen of Gams by Charles Farrell. (Desert Sun Photo)

Investigation Continues on Disappearance

Investigation continued today into the mysterious disappearance of Al Taylor, 52, Palm Springs Camera Shop owner, who walked out of his home about 8 a.m. Tuesday and has not been seen or heard of since.

Thursday, Chief of Police August G. Kettman assigned Detective T. M. Aiken to accompany Capt. Cliff Campbell and a half dozen members of the Mounted Police on a detailed search of Section 14, and the Skyline Trail along the foothills of the San Jacinto foothills to Dry Falls, while a second party searched in the Tahquitz Canyon.

Taylor stepped outside his home Tuesday morning while his wife, Toni, was preparing his breakfast. That was the last time he was seen.

East Germany Tries Again For Unification Conference

BERLIN (UPI) — The East German Foreign Office announced today it has proposed to the Big Four and West Germany a conference to discuss a peace treaty for Germany.

A Foreign Office press announcement said East Germany, in notes to the United States, Britain, France, the Soviet Union and West Germany, said negotiations should be opened on the "preparation" of a peace treaty.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT said the notes to the western powers were handed to the western embassies in Prague by the Czech Foreign Office because East Germany has no diplomatic relations with the West.

The note to the Soviet Union was accepted by Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in Moscow.

EAST GERMANY proposed that an East-West German commission be set up to discuss the problems to be solved in drawing up a peace treaty.

Pilots Asked To Defer Date Called for Strike

The Federal Mediation Board Thursday asked the Air Lines Pilots Association to defer the Bonanza Airlines pilots strike date "pending further conferences."

The action by the Mediation Board was taken as ALPA announced that the Bonanza pilots would go out on strike at 11:30 p.m. next Monday.

As the strike drew closer to reality, Edmond Converse, president of Bonanza, announced that the airline would continue to maintain its flight schedules and accept reservations. "In the event of a reduction in service," said the president, "Bonanza will protect its passengers by making reservations for them on other carriers."

The dispute involves an increase in wages for pilots, better working conditions, flight rules and a pilot's pension plan.

Flash floods touched off by rains up to 10 inches swept through at least a half dozen Kansas towns Thursday night, doing major damage at Clyde where the entire business district and two-thirds of the residences were inundated.

Water reached depths of six feet in the business district of Clyde and strong currents caved in store fronts, upended sidewalks and washed out railroad tracks.

No one was reported killed in the floods, which struck their heaviest blow in the middle of the night.

Cameron, La., Undergoes New Scare

Ella Reported 400 Miles off Coast of Texas

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Anxious coastal residents of Texas and Louisiana fled inland today from tropical storm Ella, still 400 miles south of Corpus Christi, Tex.

The storm, its winds still below hurricane strength, was being watched carefully by hurricane experts and coastal interests were cautioned to be ready to move at a moment's notice.

THE MIAMI Weather Bureau, meanwhile, reported a new suspicious squally area has formed in the Atlantic about 200 miles east of the Windward Islands. A weather plane was sent into the area, at the entrance of the Caribbean just north of South America. A new storm would bear the name of Fifi.

Ella threw fears into the hearts of Cameron, La., residents who lived through hurricane Audrey last year. That hurricane killed more than 500 in the Cameron area.

APPROXIMATELY 75 per cent of the 3,500 residents of Cameron already had evacuated their homes.

The Coast Guard station at Port Aransas said the evacuation of between 1,000 and 1,200 persons was under way there today.

The Corpus Christi Weather Bureau said a four-foot tide would put all of Port Aransas, located on the upper tip of Mustang Island under water.

THE CORPUS Christi Naval Air Station began flying all its planes out at 7 a.m. today. Sea planes were flown to the Norfolk, Va., Naval Air Station and other planes to inland air bases in Texas.

Tides four to six feet above normal were expected along the Central Texas Coast.

Forecasters said tides up to four feet could be expected at other coastal sections from Western Louisiana to Brownsville.

Linkletter Has Narrow Crash Escape on TV

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Art Linkletter nearly was involved in a helicopter crash Thursday at the climax of his nationally televised "House Party" program aboard the carrier Kearsarge.

The smiling television personality waved goodbye to his audience and climbed in the helicopter which started to rise and then dipped dangerously toward the flight deck.

Someone had forgotten to untie one of the mooring lines tying the "copter to the carrier's deck. The Navy pilot felt a slight tug as he eased up to takeoff and set the craft down.

WEATHER STOPS COMMUNICATIONS WITH EUROPE, JAPAN

NEW YORK (UPI) — Severe atmospheric conditions hampered international communications, including transmission of news, in various parts of the world early today.

Radio and telegraphic communication between Japan and the rest of the world were cut off for several hours. The transmission of news from major news agencies also was disrupted.

RCA Communications here said "severe magnetics" had disrupted its operations in Europe. Communications in the Western Hemisphere were proceeding normally, a spokesman said.

Council Faces Decision Which May Determine Future Of County Sales Tax Ordinance, League of Cities

Whether Palm Springs will give a token contribution to the County of Riverside in an attempt to save the vital Bradley-Burns Act, the county's sales tax agreement with the State, was the big question today when the City Council of Palm Springs must decide.

Following a meeting Thursday of the councilmen of Palm Springs and Corona, there was no doubt that Corona will stand steadfast on its action of "not contributing next year to the sales tax program."

HEMET MAYOR Jim Simpson, who is chairman of the League of Riverside County Cities, told the Palm Springs City Council that if it would make a token contribution to the county, the Board of Supervisors "would recognize that Palm Springs wants to save the sales tax contract and may re-write the sales tax ordinance regardless of what Corona does."

But the question of Palm Springs contributing is a mute one, for two per cent would mean a $17,000 contribution by the city, and a possible increase in the city tax rolls of some two cents.

THE BIG WORRY facing Palm Springs and other cities in the League is not that Corona is pulling out of the contract, but that if the Bradley-Burns act is killed, the county would have to come back next year with an additional tax levy of 15 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Mayor Charles Jameson and Corona Councilman Francis Stearns told Palm Springs that they were "not interested in forcing Palm Springs to make a contribution, but we would rather have Palm Springs back us in our play to not contribute."

BUT, THEN, LATER in the meeting, Corona took another stand, but this time a little weaker. They said that if Palm Springs would contribute five per cent "so would Corona," this way appealing the supervisors who would continue to get the same 10 per cent that Corona now pays.

But Palm Springs councilmen took a long look at the figures and noticed that they would be paying a great deal more in cash than Corona, even though it was just five per cent each, and said "no."

CORONA TAKES the stand that if the county Board of Supervisors kills the county sales tax agreement it will cost the county better than $800,000 a year, but if they wrote a new ordinance omitting Corona from sharing, the loss would amount to only $20,000 a year.

But Palm Springs councilmen and Simpson each said that the omission of Corona from the sales tax ordinance would probably cause a repercussion and that other cities "would line up to withdraw from having to pay the County of Riverside."

CORONA MAINTAINS that the Board of Supervisors "will not kill the Bradley-Burns Act" and that they are "bluffing," but the cities of Riverside County are worried because of the possible additional levy by the county of 15 cents per $100 assessed valuation if the Bradley-Burns Act does get killed.

When the agreement was signed last year for all cities of Riverside County to share in the sales tax program with the exception of Palm Springs, a clause was also written into the ordinance which says that if any city should pull out and change the amount of income, the sales tax program will be ended.

PALM SPRINGS was strong on its stand, and was supported by figures from the state, that through the county sales tax program Palm Springs would not stand to gain from the agreement.

It was agreed on by all other cities of the county, including Corona, that Palm Springs would not have to contribute. Now, Corona has declared its intention to withdraw from the agreement and says that it can set up its own tax collection service and make more money, "like Palm Springs is doing."

THE END OF THE Bradley-Burns Act in this county would almost surely mean the end of the League of Riverside County Cities, and League members were "very irritated" over the fact that Corona took action to withdraw from the agreement without first bringing it to the League for discussion.

Simpson said yesterday that the League was holding its next meeting on Sept. 18, and both Palm Springs and Corona plan to be present to see if some agreement can be worked out.

Two Men Arrested on Charge Of Possessing Slot Machine

Two Palm Springs men are out on $200 bail each today following their arrest yesterday afternoon on charges of having a slot machine in their possession.

Detective Richard Harries and Juvenile Officer Steve Stevenson went to the small apartment home of Thomas P. Cunningham, 21, and Dale S. Ramirez, 28, on a routine complaint called into the department.

While questioning the suspects after being invited into the house, Harries noticed the slot machine sitting in the hallway of the home, partially covered by clothing.

The detectives then placed the two men under arrest on charges of possessing a slot machine.

There were only 35 or 40 cents in nickels in the machine at the time it was confiscated. The two men are scheduled to appear in Palm Springs Judicial District Court on Sept. 9 for their arraignment.

The maximum sentence as specified by law is $500 fine and/or 6 months in the county jail.

'Mystery Voice' Jackpot Goes Up to $1,550

Resort area residents were today invited to join disc jockey Ace Hudkin's "mystery voice" contest at the Biltmore Hotel and try to win $1,550 worth of merchandise.

To enter the contest, send your name and telephone number to Hudkin, in care of the Biltmore Hotel's "Phantom Voice" contest.

Contestant names will be drawn from a box and called by Hudkin from his poolside Biltmore telephone. To win the valuable merchandise, contestants must name a singer and her song from a record played by Hudkin.

Indio High School Walkway Said Best Solution

Road Commissioner A. C. Keith told the Board of Supervisors this week that construction of a five-foot paved strip adjacent to a farm road along the southerly side of the Indio High School property line at an approximate cost of $1,000 appears to be the best solution of the problem posed by Dr. John T. Shea, who last week urged immediate action to establish a walkway or road for students from the Noble Ranch section.

Keith said that a walkway adjoining a county road could be financed by District Four road funds. Another alternative suggested was an educational code provision for such an expenditure by a school district.

As to the extension of Monroe Street westerly to the high school, Keith said it would be impractical with an adobe wall, grapefruit orchard, well, pump house and other buildings in the way. The board ordered a copy of Keith's report sent to Dr. Shea.

Sale of Hemet Property Given Board Approval

Sale of 30 feet of the county's 300-foot frontage on Latham Street in Hemet, across from the Community Hospital, was approved by the Board of Supervisors this week as recommended by Property Management Supt. Clay Begole, the price to be $1,800 in accordance with the $60 per front foot fair market value determined by the county assessor.

The purchasers, Dr. R. O. Merrill and Dr. J. C. Long, propose to add the 30 feet to the property they now own and on which they propose construction of a medical center.

"In principal," said Begole, "I do not believe the county should sell property where there is possible future use. . . . The proposed medical facility would provide certain conveniences and service to the people of Hemet and I believe the 30-foot frontage, with a depth of 150 feet, could be released without damage to the future needs of the county."

Ingmar Grude Services To Be Conducted Saturday

Funeral services will be conducted here Saturday morning for Ingmar Grude, 53, Palm Springs contractor who died while swimming at the Salton Sea Tuesday.

Cause of death was believed to be a coronary attack, according to August F. Timann, who is related to Grude by marriage.

A native of Stavanger, Norway, Grude came to Palm Springs 14 years ago. He lived at 656 Highland.

He leaves his widow, Lucille; five brothers, Enoch, of Cathedral City; Gerhard, of Stockton, Calif.; Laif, of Fox Lake, Ill.; Gordon, of LaCrosse, Wisc., and Norman, of Chicago, and a sister, Bertha Redal, also of Chicago.

Funeral services will be conducted at Wiefels and Son Mortuary Chapel by Rev. Walter H. Reuning, of Our Savior Lutheran Church. Members of the Palm Springs Elks Lodge will also officiate at the service. Burial follows at Desert Memorial Park.

Pay Raise Okeh, Loses Anyway

MASON CITY, Iowa — (UPI) — Mayor George Mendon got a pay raise but took an awful beating on his expense account.

A judge ruled the mayor's 1957 pay hike legal but said his 1954 expense account wasn't ordered him to return $2,350 to the city.

Funeral services will be conducted at Wiefels and Son Mortuary Chapel by Rev. Walter H. Reuning, of Our Savior Lutheran Church. Members of the Palm Springs Elks Lodge will also officiate at the service. Burial follows at Desert Memorial Park.

Revived German Navy Is Rated Effective, Powerful NATO Force

By CAY BROCKDORFF
United Press International
KIEL, Germany (UP) — Germany's navy, whose battleships and cruisers once ranked among the world's most powerful, has made a comeback.

The new West German fleet is a far cry from Adolf Hitler's mighty armada but the men who command it are the same ones who launched Germany's savage and damaging attacks on Allied shipping in World War II.

APPARENTLY OUTMATCHED hopelessly in its home waters—the Baltic Sea—by some 350 Soviet warships, West Germany's fleet commanders still think their 60-odd ships have the Russians worried more than they admit.

Assigned by NATO to defend the Baltic Sea's western approaches against Soviet attempts to move their vast number of submarines and cruisers into the open Atlantic, the German Navy is in waters where it is traditionally at home.

And the Germans who amazed the world more than two decades ago when they built their pocket battleships apparently are out to repeat the trick.

QUIETLY AND with little fanfare, they are building small and versatile craft believed capable of outracing any other naval ship. Designed especially to operate in the Baltic and North Seas, these small ships of 160 tons displacement—smaller than a river barge—pose a serious threat to Soviet naval power.

Carrying four big torpedo tubes—later versions may even have six—the tiny warships can speed as fast as 45 knots, about as fast as an express train.

ADM. ROLF Johannesen, commander of the German fleet, said the small craft, powered by four Mercedes diesel engines totalling 12,000 horsepower, are capable of mining Russia's Baltic ports in one night.

Johannesen, at 58 youthful and energetic, is not a man of idle boasts.

He told this reporter aboard his flagship, the American-leased destroyer "Z One," during the fleet's exercises that "know-how and not the number of our ships is what worries the Russians most. Thus the very existence of a small German fleet may serve as a deterrent to war."

THE HIGHLY decorated admiral, who is rarely seen wearing his several rows of medals, said he plans to keep his ships out at sea as frequently as possible.

"Seamanship is not learned in port," he said. Johannesen knows that skill can count heavily in the operation of a navy.

Paying tribute to the British Navy's sinking of the German battleship Scharnhorst in Arctic waters in 1943, he said "it was not the more powerful British fleet but better British seamanship and knowledge of Arctic conditions which decided the issue."

LIKE JOHANNESSEN, whose wartime experience included commanding German destroyers which mined the Thames Estuary under the eyes of the British fleet, most except the enlisted sailors in the new German fleet are naval old-timers.

Commander Hans Trummer, captain of the destroyer "Z One" was in charge of a German destroyer in World War II.

He trained his young enlisted crew to check out with a mark of "excellent" from the U. S. Navy after taking the ship over in the United States a few months ago.

HANDSOME, POPULAR Adm. Bernhard Rogge, known by Germans the "admiral with the bowler hat," commands NATO forces in northern Germany.

Rogge, captain of a lone wolf German surface raider during the war, successfully mocked the Allied navies for months by changing his ship's appearance from a Russian freighter to a Dutch steamer or a Norwegian trader.

His trademark, a bowler hat, was worn so he could pass off as an old square-rigger captain turned master of a steamship.

SMALL AS THE West German navy may be, the Russians themselves gave credence to the belief of its admirals that it is worrying the Soviets.

As the navy's ships moved slowly out of this Baltic Sea port for their maneuvers, a black limousine carrying the sign of the Soviet military mission accredited to Allied forces in West Germany drew up on a shore drive.

And three Soviet officers lowered the windows to watch the fleet through large binoculars.

Motorist Fined For His Mascot

NOTTINGHAM, England (UP) — Motorist Malcolm Pearson, 26, was fined £2.50 Monday for having a "dangerous" mascot on the front fender of his car. The mascot was a set of stag antlers.

WHO SAID THE SACK LOOK is dead? Certainly not where Clarice Hewitt, "Miss Date of 1958," and the new date crop at Desi Arnaz Western Hills Hotel near Palm Springs are concerned. Attired in a sack sun suit, Miss Hewitt, a staff member of Desi's desert spa, helped sack the early ripening fruit with the traditional heavy waterproof paper. Sacking protects the fruit against rain damage. California Date Grower's Association officials are predicting this year's crop will substantially top last year's $4,401,900 Coachella Valley harvest. (Gayle Studio Photo)

Model Airplane Club to Start Flying Tuesday

Palm Springs Model Airplane Club, sponsored by the City Park and Recreation Department, will start its fall season of model airplane flying next Tuesday at the baseball field at the Polo Grounds.

The club will meet once a week this month for "get acquainted" sessions and will fly planes between 6:30 and 8:30 p.m.

Howard Haddock, city recreation superintendent, said that Don DuBose, Hugh Kopter and Marvin Lebell will again be in charge of the club.

Bids Called for Expansion Of County Planning Office

Plans for addition to the courthouse space now occupied by the county planning department of the adjoining offices recently vacated by the agricultural department, were approved by the Board of Supervisors this week and the time for receiving bids designated as Sept. 29 at 11 a.m.

According to the plans, prepared by Herman O. Ruhnan, Riverside architect, approximately 1,130 square feet of space will be added to the 840 square feet the planning department now occupies, giving a total of approximately 1,970 square feet.

Although Clay Begole, property management superintendent, estimated the cost to be in the neighborhood of $8,000, Administrative Officer Robert T. Andersen expressed the hope that the cost can be kept down to $4,500 or less and indicated that if bids are higher than that approximate amount, it is probable that the plans will be changed to lower the cost.

"New lighting is absolutely necessary," declared Andersen, "and I think air conditioning should be provided, but we could eliminate partitions shown in the plans if necessary."

HALEKULANI APARTMENTS, the newest rental apartment project in Palm Desert, is now under construction on Tumbleweed Lane, near the Palms to Pines Highway. Designed by owner-builder Harold J. Bissner, the $100,000 project includes 16 modern apartments, decorated in a Hawaiian motif and created to offer comfortable resort living at moderate rentals. Each one-bedroom unit has a private lanai, which opens onto a central swimming pool, refrigerated air conditioning, carpets, drapes and built-in breakfast bars.

Fix-Up Home Prior to Sale, Realtor Says

Improvements Outside, Inside Increase Value

If you are thinking of selling your home, you may be able to add as much as 10 to 25 per cent to its resale value by making the proper improvements this summer, Ernie Dunlevie, president of the Palm Springs Real Estate Board, advised homeowners today.

"Because Realtors are constantly engaged in helping people to buy the homes of their choice, they are thoroughly familiar with the features of homes that make—or lose—sales," Dunlevie said. "The person thinking of selling a home, therefore, will save time and effort if he calls on a Realtor for his professional advice as to the improvements to make and the price that can realistically be asked for the property after they have been made."

AS AN EXAMPLE of a remodeling job that brought results, the Palm Springs real estate executive cited the case of a prewar house to which a backyard patio had been added, a garage finished off into a game room with a door opening on the terrace, and an attached half bath constructed. Before the additions, the house was valued at $15,000. The additions cost $5,000. The house sold for $25,000, or a net increase of 25 per cent in value.

"THERE ARE, of course, certain general suggestions that can be advanced from the experience and observations of all Realtors," Dunlevie added. Realtors, he explained, are not "just any real estate men." They are members of their local Real Estate Board and of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. Their membership is based on adherence to a code of ethics and on experience and ability.

One point to consider, he said, is the importance of fresh exterior paint if the house is of frame construction, and of interior decoration, if needed, for any home. Many homeowners, he said, think that prospective buyers will be able to visualize the house with these improvements. Such confidence is frequently misplaced, and, moreover, "the right use of color often can add $1,000 to the price of your home—it gives a sense of proportion to a house that lacks it."

THE PALM SPRINGS Realtor termed the grounds of a house another vital point. If the lawn is unkempt and neglected, many possible buyers will never cross your threshold in the belief that the inside of the home will be equally discouraging. Furthermore, while you may never be able to add $500 to the asking price of your home by producing the bill for that shrubbery you installed, you may add appreciably to the sales price by the general betterment in appearance.

ANTIQUE BATHROOMS and an old-fashioned kitchen place your older home at a competitive disadvantage with the many new homes on the market, Dunlevie warned.

Therefore, he recommended for many cases the installation of modern fixtures in both rooms—tile floors in the baths, and new cabinets in kitchens. A second bathroom in a three-bedroom house can often increase its sale price 10 to 20 per cent, he added.

United Press International
NEW YORK — (UPI) — For that trip to the moon comes a big two-page map of the satellite put out by Rand McNally & Co., New York.

It pictures the moon as only scientists or astronomers have seen it before, revealing craters, mountains, extinct oceans and valleys with their appropriate names.

The map, which shows the 59 per cent of the moon's surface visible from the earth, is based on photographs taken by three U.S. observatories.

Gardening in the Desert

While ruminating on the choice of plants you might use in beautifying your garden the amateur gardener might give thought to the many shrubs that may be grown successfully in the low desert. If you are starting from scratch it would be well to consider first the shrubs that mature in full sunshine. There are many species that come under this category. In the article we will mention a few that have satisfactorily passed the test.

The Geraldton Wax Flower, if handled properly will grow to about six feet. Its wax-like bloom pinkish-lavender in color, will show up at the end of January and will last until summer is on us again. The foliage is a bright green, it enjoys full sunshine and is hardy down to 24 degrees. It thrives well in our sandy soil but seems to have a decided distaste for fertilizers. When it finishes blooming cut it back and don't spare the pruning scissors.

INCLUDED IN THIS same category are two tea trees, the Dwarf Australian and the Double Rose. The former has a grayish-green foliage and, in the spring, brings forth an abundance of white blossoms. The Double Rose is likely to grow a little higher than its prototype and its flowers are of a delicate pink. Both are light on water needs and are hardy to 15 degrees.

If you incline towards a quick growing, ornamental shrub give some thought to the Tecoma Stans. This also is a fullshaping plant, is likely to grow to a height of 18 feet but is best kept topped and bushy in shape. The clusters of yellow, funnel-shaped flowers bloom lightly in the cold weather but the warmer sun of springtime brings forth a heavy picturesque growth. Like most shrubs it is at its best with regular watering.

As a hedge the Texas Ranger might possibly fill the bill. It grows from five to 10 feet but looks best when evenly topped off in its spread of around five feet. Its dense, gray foliage is not particularly attractive and its lavender-pink bloom shows up only in the summertime.

BOTH TYPES of Broom, Scotch and Spanish, should be passed over at this time except for very large gardens.

The Common Rosemary is another that enjoys full sunshine and sandy soil. It is one of the few that are drought resistant and are light on water. After its blooming period it is best kept at a height of about four feet by heavy pruning. The blooms are b'e and attractive.

The Golden Wonder Cassia also calls for a minimum of water. One of the plants that call for much pruning, it may be allowed a spread of five feet. Seldom during the year are its mass of yellow flowers missing, and it has a foliage of thick, green leaves. T.G.M.

GI Home Loans Activity Shows Large Increase

GI loan activity during July over that of June was highlighted by sizeable increases in applications for home loan guaranty and in GI housing starts, Veterans Administration said today.

Rises in these two categories, VA said, were preceded as long ago as last April by a steep climb in appraisal requests for proposed structures, a bellweather of both future GI construction and sales.

APPLICATIONS for home loan guaranty during July rose 31.1 per cent to 19,213, compared with 14,652 in June.

GI starts in July were up 25.2 per cent to 10,620 from June's 8,482.

New Apartment Project Started

PALM DESERT — Work started this week on construction of a new $100,000, 16-unit apartment project, designed to offer comfortable resort living at moderate cost.

Located on Tumbleweed Lane, just east of the Palms to Pines highway, the new apartment structure is being built by its owner-designer, Harold J. Bissner, formerly of Pasadena.

Labeled the "Halekulani," which means House Beautiful, Bissner said the one-bedroom apartments are based on a Hawaiian motif, similar to another development created by Bissner in Pasadena.

Set in four separate buildings, which form a center square, the apartments boast refrigerated air conditioning, carpeting and drapes and built-in breakfast bars.

EACH UNIT HAS a private lanai, opening onto the central pool area set in the center of the square. The apartments contain about 600 square feet of living space and all landscaping is Hawaiian.

A particular feature of the new building is the attic exhaust fan system incorporated in each unit.

THIS INNOVATION, Bissner said, takes a great load off the air conditioning system by constantly circulating air through the attic areas which are normally brought to extremely high temperatures by constant sunlight.

The project, "my first experience in the desert," said Bissner, will be completed in about 90 days and will be rented on a year-around basis at moderate cost.

Bissner and his wife, who came here from Pasadena this summer, plan to remain as permanent, year-round residents.

San Benito County Right to Work Ordinance Ruled Unconstitutional

SAN FRANCISCO — (UP) — The California District Court of Appeal today declared a so-called right to work ordinance of San Benito County to be unconstitutional.

In a unanimous opinion written by Presiding Judge Raymond E. Peters, the court declared that the 1957 county ordinance attempted to legislate in a field already occupied by state law. The ordinance was contrary to clear public policy in the state law, the court said.

THE RIGHT TO work ordinance would ban the union shop, under which all employees must belong to a union.

The San Benito case involved Ted Chavez, a painting contractor and O.E. Sargent, secretary of an AFL-CIO painter's local.

A city right to work ordinance passed in Palm Springs previously had been held unconstitutional by the 2nd District Court of Appeals. The case now is pending with the California Supreme Court.

A STATE RIGHT to work law is proposed in Proposition 18 on the November ballot.

The court declared today that state policy was "to equalize bargaining power as between labor and management by means of encouraging maintenance of effective unions."

"BY PROHIBITING voluntary agreement relating to union security the ordinance necessarily and inevitably adversely affects the power of the union to bargain effectively. This is obvious."

The three judges argued in the opinion that with right to work ordinances "a large portion of the labor force necessarily would become non-union."

The result would be a "significant" weakening of unions in their ability to bargain with employers.

Coachella Listed As Grapefruit Meeting Site

Coachella was today listed as one site in a series of meetings called for nomination of members and alternates to the Grapefruit Administrative Committee of the Federal Marketing Agreement and Order program.

All grapefruit producers were urged to attend the meeting, scheduled for 2 p.m., Friday, Sept. 12, at the Coachella Valley County Water District auditorium.

Other meetings are also scheduled for Phoenix and Yuma, Ariz., and the Imperial Valley.

The marketing program, which regulates interstate handling of grapefruit grown in these areas, provides that annual producers meetings be held for selection successors to committee members.

Problems of Housing County Prisoners Grow; Rice, Andersen Work on Solution

Beset by the problems of an already badly overcrowded county jail and a notice from the City of Riverside that it is closing its jail and the county will have to take over the portion of its prisoners arrested on violations of state law, Sheriff Joe Rice and Administrative Officer Robert T. Andersen went to work this week to find ways and means to remedy the situation.

In addition to turning over state-violation prisoners to the county, the city seeks to put its city ordinance violators in the county jail also, by payment of a three-dollar-per-day fee for each such prisoner.

"WE WILL HAVE to provide for prisoners violating state laws," declared Andersen, "but we haven't agreed to or said we would take care of prisoners arrested for violation of city laws."

Andersen left the court house during a recess of the Board of Supervisors to urge the Riverside City Council, also in session, to advance $35,000 to $50,000 to the county which would furnish funds for expansion of facilities for minimum security type prisoners and leave room in the county jail to house the city prisoners, with the three-dollar per day fee to be credited on the loan.

Incorporation Survey Hopes Dashed Again

County Counsel Ray T. Sullivan, Jr., reiterated his stand this week that the county cannot conduct a survey to determine the population of an area contemplating incorporation.

Issuing a report to the Board of Supervisors to a request made three weeks ago by J. G. Dever, North Palm Springs realtor, that the county conduct a population survey of the area proposed for incorporation as the city of North Palm Springs, Sullivan declared:

"We have carefully reviewed the pertinent sections of the Government Code both with respect to the powers of the county and the conduct of the formation of the proposed city in this regard, and it is our opinion that the county may not undertake the activity requested by Dever. It is beyond the power of the county to comply with his request."

Dever had proposed that the survey be paid for by a group of incorporation opponents of which he is a member.

The supervisors filed Sullivan's report.

County Dance Law to Get More Changes

Further changes in the county's dance control ordinance which was recently amended to permit dancing until 2 a.m. every day except Sunday when no dances are allowed, were suggested this week by Sheriff Joe Rice and approved by the Board of Supervisors.

Rice suggested that the present permit fee of two dollars be increased to three dollars for each day dancing is conducted, with an additional fee of $12 if the sheriff determines that one or more deputy sheriffs need be in attendance, $12 per deputy that is. The deputy fee is now $8.

Presence of a woman attendant or matron, to be paid for by the party conducting a public dance or club dance, was also proposed by the sheriff.

The supervisors instructed county counsel to prepare a new amending ordinance to effect the sheriff's requests.

John Sharps Return to Sunair Home After 10,000 Mile Trip

SUNAIR — Mr. and Mrs. John Sharp returned to their Rodeo Drive home last week after an absence of two months and almost 10,000 miles over the highways of seven states.

Their first stop was in Berkeley where they spent a week visiting with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Dean, and with her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Helin; then to Sacramento to visit with another brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Helin.

They spent three days at Lake Tahoe and a week at Yellowstone National Park before driving to Scottsbluff, Nebr., where Mr. and Mrs. Sharp were married in 1912. They enjoyed renewing past friendships on their first visit.

Worthy Matron Attends State Meet in Oakland

CATHEDRAL CITY—Mrs. Lola Sherrill, worthy matron of Palm Springs Chapter OES, recently attended the East Bay reception at the Municipal Auditorium in Oakland, honoring Worthy Grand Matron Grace M. Hoffman.

Mrs. Sherrill and daughter, Roberta, drove to Palmdale, where Roberta visited with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt Gardner (Mrs. Sherrill's sister). Mrs. Sherrill then drove to Bakersfield where she boarded a plane for Oakland.

While in the northern city she was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Wedel (Cathedral City Development Co.). Returning to Bakersfield she visited with friends before driving on to Palmdale where Roberta joined her mother for the return trip to their Cathedral City home.

since 1916, when they left to make their home in California. They traveled north to the Black Hills of South Dakota then west to Sheridan and Cody, Wyo., and returned to Yellowstone before going to Red Lodge, Mont. to visit with Cathedral City winter residents Mr. and Mrs. Milo Schanck at their summer home. Then to Kalispell, Mont., and on to enjoy the clear lakes and countryside of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

Continuing westward, their next stop was Olympia, Wash., and while there drove to Port Angelus on the Hood Canal; then into Oregon where they spent a week at Ocean Lake near Newport. In Oregon they also visited Crater Lake and Klamath Falls. They visited Redding, Calif., and spent a week with friends in Reno before traveling the remaining miles of a most interesting summer tour.

The Desert Sun is an independent newspaper dedicated to truth, accuracy and impartiality in the news; to the progress of the desert region; to the support of that which it believes to be right and to the defeat of that which it believes wrong.

School Growth Shows Gain In Permanent Residents

One of the best gauges of population increases or decreases in any area is total school enrollment.

That Palm Springs and the surrounding desert district is gaining at a rate almost treble the State average is shown conclusively by the ever-increasing local school registration figures.

Opening preparations now under way at the various schools here indicate that the total number of students enrolled in the Palm Springs Unified School District this year will pass the 3,500 mark, the largest numerical gain for any single year in history.

It was only a few years ago that the 2,000 mark was reached, but with an average growth of 27 per cent a year since that time both the school and adult population has more than doubled in four years.

Fortunately the taxpayers and voters of the district approved a major expansion of school facilities early this year and the construction program is now far enough advanced that there will be no serious overcrowding this term or for several years to come.

Also, the favorable vote establishing a new Desert Junior College means that several years hence an additional 1,500 or more of our local young people will be able to remain as students for two years of higher education.

With the rapid rate of increase this means in another two years we will have a combined total of between 6,000 and 7,000 students in all schools of the area, comprising a "public service" institution of such size and importance as could scarcely have been imagined by our pioneers of a few decades ago.

All of which shows clearly that while Palm Springs rightfully enjoys the distinction of being America's favorite winter resort, this section of the desert is also fast becoming the permanent home of increasing thousands of new residents each year.

Our community is not only highly attractive to visitors, but it is now well rounded out by a strong, sound and active business economy.

It has become a desirable place to live for both business and pleasure.

The Big Whodunit

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Edmund Burke is author of the aphorism which says in essence that you cannot indict a whole people, and this idea is tested in America every election year.

Can you indict such well-peopled institutions as the Democratic and Republican parties, the Labor Movement, the National Association of Manufacturers, the Chambers of Commerce, the Liberal Establishment, the Conservative Coalition, the Eisenhower Administration or the American Congress?

SPECIFICALLY, THERE is quite a move afoot to level the finger of guilt at a collective culprit for murdering the chance of Labor reform legislation at the recent session. The several bills of indictment can be summarized by November we will know whether the charges have stood up in court.

No 1 Indictment: For obstructing Labor legislation: the Democratic leadership in Congress, along with its confederates in crime from the Labor Movement.

WERE I DRAWING this indictment, I would skip over the circumstantial evidence which shows Labor leaders, attorneys, lobbyists and influence peddlers slipping in and out of Democratic committee rooms. To show where the Democrats stood on passing remedial legislation for Labor, I would move to the significant date of Aug. 14 and to a meeting of the House Committee on Education-Labor.

All but one of the 30 members were present, which is an unusual circumstance. Two significant votes were taken. One was a vote to take up the Udall (D., Ariz.) bill, a replica of the Senate's Kennedy-Ives bill, pigeonholed for 41 days by Speaker Sam Rayburn. The other was a vote to take up the Kearns (R., Penn.) bill, a much sterner measure, based upon the findings of the McClellan rackets committee.

THE FIRST VOTE was 7 to 22

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: I am a married woman but my husband is still the bachelor who stood alongside of me when I got married. He goes out whenever he feels like it and comes back when he's ready. If I ask him where he's been he tells me it's none of my business. We have three children who are starting to ask questions. What should I tell them? I have covered up for him long enough.

HAD IT
DEAR HAD IT: If there is a marriage counselor in your community, find him and listen carefully to what he tells you. You've allowed yourself to be stepped on too much... it's your move. Now step on it!

DEAR ABBY: I don't want my daughter to make the same mistake I did so I am going to tell her to give these three questions plenty of thought before letting a man put a wedding ring on her finger. First, how much is his take-home pay? Next how does he intend to handle the money? Third, is he going to hold all the money and ask his wife to be a servant? If girls were smart today they would settle these three questions BEFORE. Am I right Abby when I say that money is the chief cause in wrecking marriages?

EXPERIENCED
DEAR EXPERIENCED: You are right! Couples who intend to marry would be wise to shake the stardust out of their eyes long enough to discuss finances and set up a budget. A little simple addition would help a lot before they start to multiply.

DEAR ABBY: I hate my mother and she hates me. I did poor work at school and the principal and the school nurse suggested it a vicious example of attempted union-busting and of hidden distrust of the working people themselves.

On the basis of this evidence, did the Republicans try to harm unions and union members?

THESE ARE the principle indictments to be tried in November — one against the Democrats, one against the Republicans. There are some minor charges against by-standing accessories to the alleged crimes. But I want to leave some space here for a hypothetical bill of indictment against Congress itself.

No 3 Indictment: Back in April, Republican Leader Knowland and others tried to bring Labor reform legislation to the floor and to get it done early in the session. Knowland was opposed, and eventually defeated, on the following arguments:

1. That the proper committee should study the legislation.
2. That serious legislation ought not be written on the floor.
3. That there should be unlimited debate and amendments on such an important matter.

WELL, WHAT happened? Democrats in the Senate succeeded in postponing debate from April till June. Democrats in the House postponed consideration of the Senate bill from June 17, when it reached Speaker Rayburn, until Aug. 18, when there was last-moment action on the House floor. But the action, under an attempted suspension of rules, had these characteristics:

1. That the proper committee had not studied the legislation.
2. That the neglected legislation would have to be written, if at all, right there on the floor.
3. That debate would be limited and amendments forbidden.

Both the Senate in April and the House in August flubbed their jobs. On the basis of what happened, can the whole Congressional system stand indicted for incompetence? This is the most serious question of them all.

Keeping the Wolf from His Door

This Side of The Sun

By Phat

Oh, what a mess
And Oh, what a clutter.
If Mrs. G could
That's what she'd mutter

But she never mutters.

I'M KNEE-DEEP in time-tables. The kind you pick from the racks in depots and ticket agencies, the kind that you aren't supposed to have, those for the government and information for employees only, which Chuck McGann and Sandy Cooper persuaded the management of the Southern Pacific to send me because I'm a railroad fan, plus a copy of the voluminous (1500 pages) Railroad Guide which lists every line in the Western Hemisphere down to the three-milers.

THAT'S BECAUSE next week I take off down the rails on my annual train ride.

Since I know where I'm going, how and when, why do I need all of those time tables was the logical query as I piled up my home desk, the floor and adjacent chairs, also a card table, with the literature.

"Because I want to know where I could have gone if I had the money," was my equally logical answer.

BE THAT as it may, which is using five words to say "anyway," I'm on my way next week on the trip I usually take in June but which I couldn't get away on in June being too busy.

That sentence would have earned me an 'F' in my old English classes at USC but you get the idea.

I'VE TRIED almost every way there and back. That is, to Chicago which is a focal point for side trips to infest relatives in the Midwest.

Always directly there then home once by Seattle, once through Portland, twice via San Francisco, once each Salt Lake City, Kansas City and New Orleans.

This time it will be the FSP Golden State east, the California Zephyr west and the FSP Lark south. Nice, interesting, scenic comfortable triangle trip.

I'LL BE GETTING the tourist-eye view of the desert on my way east and promise Jimmy Cooper and Cliff Brown that I will give all to those who need information on Palm Springs and this fastest-growing area in the nation.

Try to make it grow even faster.

And they won't have to increase their advertising budget a penny. It will be for free.

THE LAST TIME I started one of these junkies there were nine states in the Union I hadn't been in. I eliminated one of them but now it's back to nine.

Alaska came in since. And that makes it tough, because I had planned to realize my ambition of setting foot on the soil of every state. But, darn it, you can't go to Alaska by rail.

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

There seems to be a built-in thermostat on a boy. A seasonal detector. More delicate than all our electronic wonders.

How does my 3-year-old wonder know that it is football season? For that matter, how do I know it? We both know it though. It is a certain tingling in the blood, a matter of many awareness that separates the boys from the girls. (We have little time for women these days.)

HE SLIPS ME the ball! I slip him the ball! I tackle him—wow! Well, this boy could not have come to a better man for some of the trickiest devices in football.

His passing is a little wild—he looks in one direction and the ball goes in another. But we will correct that. Maybe we will keep it. It certainly is deceptive.

ANYWAY, HE IS starting young. And I look forward to sitting in the cheering stands and remarking casually:

"Yes, I taught that boy everything he knows."

That should rack them back considerably. The crowd falling back in awe. And the whisper running over the packed stadium.

"That's him. The one who taught The Phantom everything he knows. Yep, that's his old man — they hung up his jersey when he retired."

AS A MATTER of fact, they did hang my jersey when I retired. They hung it on a better boy.

I retired early I was eager and full of school spirit—I wrote about school spirit for the school newspaper. It was a mysterious substance and you couldn't win without it.

Anyway, I had this spirit. But not a great deal of talent.

And this sneaky boy from the other school came over and butted me in the stomach.

I WASN'T LOOKING at the time. I was looking around for the ball. We had a very deceptive play and I often lost track of the ball entirely.

I was looking for the ball with my mouth open. And this sneaky boy butted me right in the Derby Kelly.

Whoo! All the school spirit went right out of me.

And shortly after that I became very cynical and figured luck was on the side of the biggest halfbacks. Therefore I retired.

AS I REMEMBER it now — (except when my seasonal thermostat devalues me into glowing memory) — it was a bruising and foolish time of life.

We skinned ourselves in practice every afternoon. We spent hours on the blackboard. Working plays that would have stumped an atomic physicist.

As I say, they were so deceptive, I was deceived myself.

IF I HAD NOT been deceived, I would have seen that little monster. The one who tried to butt me to death.

I would have side-stepped him cool as you please. And run on to glory.

Right now they would have my jersey hung in a glass case in the gymnasium.

"Old 99," they would say. "They don't make 'em like that anymore!"

DECEPTION WAS my downfall. That was about it. I was ahead of my time. Too tricky.

"Bread of deceit is sweet to man," says the Scripture. "But afterwards his mouth shall be filled with gravel."

I have never read anything that stated my case better.

I INTEND TO TEACH this boy everything I know. Which is plenty.

At present he can run, kick or pass. A very deceptive pattern. When I think he is going to run, he kicks. He does not kick the ball. He kicks me.

I may hang his jersey. With him in it.

MIKE CONNOLLY: Behavior Amazing

HOLLYWOOD — The eyebrow-lifting feature of the welcome-to-Hollywood hoedown hosted by the Los Angeles Consul-General of France for the visiting French Ambassador to the U. S. was the startling behavior of Charlie Chaplin Jr. Young Chaplin had been two weeks earlier in a civil ceremony to pretty Susan Magness.

The young couple's church wedding was scheduled for the day after the party for the Ambassador, the invitations to the First Baptist Church in South Gate, Calif., were out — BUT Chaplin, who had staged to the party, was bending every ear he could bend at the party about what a terrible mistake he was making!

SO HERE'S ONE Hollywood marriage that was off the track even before it started — and the punchline (if one such is needed) is that Chaplin, a linguist schooled in Switzerland, was spilling his tale of woe in both English and French.

Following which, apparently completely unconcerned by the bombshell he had dropped, Chaplin did a 15-minute imitation for us of his father — a perfect take-off on the pathetic little silent screen tramp deifying a Keystone Kop's attempt to keep him from sleeping on a park bench.

Ralph Myers Wed To Estelle Baum

Ralph Myers of Myers' Plumbing and Estelle Baum of Los Angeles were married August 22 in Las Vegas.

Following a honeymoon spent at the Riviera in Las Vegas the couple returned to Palm Springs where they are at home at 517 South Vista Chino Drive.

Sunday Best For Pudding

Dress up rice pudding with this fruit and nut combination. Mix 1 1/2 cups cold cooked rice with 1 cup coconut, 1/2 cup canned or frozen diced peaches, and 1/4 cup each well-drained crushed pineapple.

Chill 2-3 up (1 small can) undiluted evaporated milk in refrigerator tray about 20 minutes or until soft ice crystals form around edges. Whip until stiff, add 2 tablespoons lemon juice and whip until very stiff. Beat in 1/2 cup sugar and fold-whipped milk into rice mixture. Serves 6.

New Board State D.A.R. Announced

Mrs. John J. Champieux of Alhambra, state regent of California Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, announced today the members of the state executive board and committee chairmen for the 1958 to 1960 regime.

The state executive board includes, in addition to Mrs. Champieux, Mesdames Walter Marion Flood of Auburn, vice-regent; H. Parker Dunlop of Long Beach, chaplain; Harris B. Spores of Salinas, assistant chaplain; Frank R. Mettlich of San Diego, recording secretary; Lester M. Powell of Glendale, corresponding secretary; Charles Russell Smith of Los Angeles, organizing secretary; Harvey B. Lyon of Oakland, assistant secretary; J. Frederick Haines of Pasadena, treasurer; George Delos Johnson of Ocean-side, registrar; Ira J. Seitz of Fresno, historian; and Percy J. Lowe of Oakland, librarian.

Mrs. Champieux also announced the schedule of meeting dates for the Southern Council, September 16, in Long Beach at The Lafayette Hotel, Broadway and Atlantic Streets, Los Cerritos Chapter will serve as hostess for the meeting, October 21, in Los Angeles at the Pico-Arlington Christian Church, 3405 West Pico Boulevard with San Vicente Chapter as hostess, January 20, San Diego at the Lafayette Hotel, 2223 El Cajon Boulevard, Letitia Coxie Shelby Chapter will be the hostess chapter, May 19, in Riverside at Mission Inn Aurlantia Chapter will hostess the meeting. Parliamentary law class will be conducted at ten o'clock in the morning prior to each council session.

Work of the California's 157 D.A.R. chapters, composed of 6340 members, will be formulated around their theme for this year, "Fruits of Freedom." Special projects will encompass continued support of Kate Dunan Smith School and Tennessee School, both of which are accredited elementary through high school, located in the mountain regions of Kentucky and Georgia. These schools are D.A.R. owned and operated. Their combined student bodies number in excess of five hundred. There are 11 additional schools on the D.A.R. approved school list. Other special projects are to support the occupational therapy scholarship fund and the D.A.R. Library in Washington, D. C. Marking historical spots in California and binding supplementary

Two Girls Leave This Week for Trip to Europe

Excitement runs high for Ruth Barnes, Bank of America employee, and Joan Minter of Laguna Beach as they prepare to leave Saturday via SAS polar route on their first trip to Europe.

The girls plan to be gone six weeks with their first stop being Denmark. They will visit the Fair in Belgium and tour France, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Spain and Portugal.

On the return journey from Lisbon to New York they will stop off in New York for three days to see the sights and the shows before returning to their respective homes. They already have tickets to see the "Music Maker" and "Saratoga."

Burkes Back from The Seashore

Mr. John Burke and children Rory, Regan, Kevin and Timolin are back in their home on Sagebrush Road, after spending the summer at Malibu Beach.

Kevin leaves tomorrow for Phoenix, Arizona where he is a sophomore at Brophy, and the twins Rory and Regan leave the following Saturday for Pasadena where they are in their junior year at Flintridge Sacred Heart Academy.

Entertains Guests Over the Weekend

Labor Day weekend brought holiday guests to the home of Mrs. Rose W. Levenson at 471 Tamarisk Road, including Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Marx and daughter Lesly, and Mr. and Mrs. Boras Palmer, all of Beverly Hills. Mrs. Levenson has just recently returned from an extended trip through the east and a visit at St. Louis, her former home.

The average American home-maker uses about three times as much electricity as she did 15 years ago.

War service records, with particular attention to military service records of soldiers participating in World War II and the Korean Conflict will continue as well as presentation of ROTC medals, American history medals, girl home maker awards, and expansion of the distribution of D.A.R. Manual for Citizenship which is already widely used by immigrant's seeking citizenship, school children, and youth organizations throughout the United States.

That Empire Waist Starts Pronunciation Wrangle

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Fashion's major silhouette for fall promises to cause almost as much controversy as last year's sack. But this time, it'll be a hassle over pronunciation, not pulchritude.

The newest style is an old one — the Empire, which moves the waistline up under the bosom. And it is in the pronunciation of the word "empire" that we have the debate.

If you're the type who prefers "toe-mah-toe" for tomato, then you will say "ahm-peer," giving the word the French pronunciation because the style originated in France.

But if you say "toe-may-toe" or "toe-may-ter," then you'll Anglicize the pronunciation and make it "em-pyre."

For the record, Mr. Webster says either the "ahm-peer" or the "em-pyre" version is correct. But around Seventh Avenue, the heart of the nation's garment industry, it's "ahm-peer." Some of the fashion reporters in Manhattan to cover openings of the fall collections got so weary of hearing the term "ahm-peer" one quipped:

"Well, while I'm here I've got to visit the Ahm-peer State Building."

"Way things are going," said another, "sports announcers will be talking about the ahm-peer at first base."

Actually the Empire silhouette has been in and out of fashion since 1795 and the Directoire period in France, says the Traphagen School of Fashion.

No sooner had the ladies of the aristocracy fled with their bell-shaped skirts and powdered wigs than the revolutionaries revolutionized styles.

"A revolution against the lush court styles set in," said the historian at Traphagen. "All lines became simple and the ladies revived the classic fashions of Rome and Greece. The point of accent moved to the bosom."

French women began wearing gowns of cheap materials which fell straight from a narrow sash tied under the bust. Some of the women oiled their bodies so the flowing gown would cling; others dampened the fabric.

In 1804-1814, the Empire period, the silhouette remained the same but the fabrics became more elaborate, and the necklines very decorative, said Traphagen. Some of today's designers refer to high-waisted dresses as "Josephines" but Traphagen said Napoleon's Empress had little to do with setting fashions at the time.

By 1825, the Empire had run its cycle and the normal waistline came back. Fashion thence moved through the hoop skirt and bustle era, until 1911 when the high waist again showed. This lasted through 1917, and didn't reappear until the 1930's.

But today, 163 years later, we have gone "Directoire." Who knows, we may start stitching up muslin and oiling our skins again!

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

NEW YORK — (UP) — Carmen Basilio and Art (Arrogant) Aragon play 20 Questions in Los Angeles tonight and the first question quite normally is "Animal, vegetable or mineral?"

The categories work out something like this:
Animal: Whether one tiger has been built up too much and the other tiger has been torn down too much.

VEGETABLE: WHETHER Basilio, a one-time onion digger, can prove there is little difference between carrots and carrots.
Mineral: Whether all is gold that glitters, what with California's "Golden Boy" carrying the hopes of the Golden West in an event promoted by George Parnassus, the Golden Greek, for what shapes up as a lot of nuggets.

YOU'D HAVE TO SAY this is one subject where all three categories come into play. But I'd have to put the emphasis on the condition and abilities of the tigers involved.

Each has a great deal at stake, what with Basilio hoping for a rematch and return shot at his former middleweight crown against Ray Robinson. Aragon, after fighting humpty dumplings for years, finally has his foot in the big-time door.

THERE IS A GREAT deal of curiosity in some quarters as to whether this will be the old Basilio in this one, the guy who took six to land one and kept wading in even when struck with blows which would have knocked the bolts out of a truck. His last was of such violence he needed dressing down, against Robinson, even more medical treatment than usual.

Aragon, on the other hand, has boxed a great many nonentities in compiling a record of 81 victories in 101 bouts. But he truly can hit because it is something of a feat to knock out 55 opponents, has he, even if they have chins of oriental crockery.

ARAGON HAS approached this bout in his usual manner — arrogantly — his confidence bolstered by 15 straight victories.

"Half the time when I walk in the ring the other fighter is so scared he is a pushover," he boasts.

The bout, he will discover, does not fall within that 50 per cent. Carmen is the type. If the prize is right, who would wrap his hands in pillows and fight an Aragon armed with a lead pipe. Which is why you have to take him, either for onions or those golden California potatoes.

Red Killefer Dies of Cancer

LOS ANGELES — (UP) — Wade (Red) Killefer, 73, former major league player and minor league manager, died Thursday of cancer.

Killefer played with Detroit and Washington of the American League and the Giants and Cincinnati of the National League. His last tie with baseball was as manager of Indianapolis of the American Association in 1942.

Biltmore Wins Series Takes 2nd Straight Over DHS

The loss of their star pitcher Floyd Browers hurt Desert Hot Springs badly last night at the Polo Grounds. The League Champion Palm Springs Biltmore easily scored a 6-0 victory to take the 1958 playoffs two games to zero.

For the Biltmore it was their fourth straight playoff victory as they beat M&M two straight times last week. A two run first inning and Don Manzo's three run home run over the left fielder's head were the big factors in last night's win.

BROWERS REPORTED to Desert Hot Springs manager Red Kean that he was sick late in the afternoon. Kean started Paul Neilson on the mound last night and he went all the way and did a presentable job although the outcome of the contest was never in doubt.

Manzo opened in the first inning for the winners with a double and John Laster walked. Moments later both scored on O. B. Crawford's double. In the fourth frame Manzo hit his home run after Neal Green had doubled and Larry Purnell had singled.

THE BILTMORE team added its final run in the fifth when Art Estel scored after singling. An inning later manager John Martin felt sure enough of the win to retire his ace pitcher Green and send Estel to the mound to pitch the last two stanzas. Estel put Desert Hot Springs down without a hit in the sixth and seventh.

Desert Hot Springs got their lone run in the fifth frame when it was too late to do much good. Chet Grebner walked and came in on an error.

The line score:

Rams, Dodgers Broadcasts Set

A doubleheader of sports features, football and baseball, is scheduled over KPAL Saturday.

Manager Al Yallen announced today.
At 3 p.m. the Los Angeles Rams - Chicago Cardinals game will be broadcast from Seattle, to be followed by the Dodger-Cards game at St. Louis at 5:40 p.m.

Utah Open Gets Started Today

SALT LAKE CITY — (UP) — The Utah Open, biggest and richest golfing event in the state's history, got under way today with big money winner Arnold Palmer.

smooth - stroking Jim Ferree and veteran Fred Hawkins cast in the favored roles.

FIGHT RESULTS

THOMSONVILLE, Conn. — Charlie Powell, 235, San Diego, knocked out Lee Jones, 190, Philadelphia, 2.

OTTAWA, Ont. — Gale Kerwin, 143, Ottawa, stopped Cliff (Bobo) Fiddler, 145, Prince Albert, Sask., 12.

FINDING OUT the score—That's hard-luck pitcher of the Cleveland Indians, Herb Score, who worked alone in the big Cleveland stadium, trying to test his ailing arm which kept him out of action for several weeks. He hurled last night against Kansas City, losing 2-1.

Jackson, Lance Try Out for Riverside Squad

Two former all-Riverside County League players from last year's Palm Springs High School football squad are candidates for positions on the Riverside City College grid team this fall, a look at the list of those who already have checked in at Tiger Town reveals.

Bob Jackson, who captained the Indians last season, hopes to see action at his favorite fullback position. Dave Lance, who cavorted at tailback for the locals, is receiving a thorough tryout as offensive end and defensive line-backer.

The Bengals are going to have to come around fast if they expect to post a winning record this year. They open their season by invading Bellflower to take on the Cerritos, the Cinderella squad that last year handed the Tigers a 34-7 defeat and then went on to become the Western team in the Junior Rose Bowl contest.

Coach Howard White's stalwarts make their first home appearance Friday, Oct. 3, against Antelope Valley and then move up the highway to take on neighboring San Bernardino in the Orange Show stadium for their first Eastern Conference game.

Other tilts on the Bengal schedule include Chaffey at Riverside, Friday, Oct. 17; Mt. San Antonio at Walnut, Saturday, Oct. 25; Santa Ana at Riverside, Friday, Oct. 31 (homecoming); Orange Coast at Costa Mesa, Saturday, Nov. 8; Fullerton at Riverside, Saturday, Nov. 15, and Citrus at Azusa, Saturday, Nov. 22.

'Best Ever Coached'

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UP) — Navy football coach Eddie Erdelatz said Thursday tackle Bob Reifsnnyder of Rockville Centre, N. Y., is "the best tackle I have ever coached—college or pro."

Rookies Keep Winning for Milwaukee

Pizarro Does Top Relief Job For 9-5 Victory

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

Juan Pizarro, little more than a spectator in the 1957 World Series, is ready to play a major role for the Milwaukee Braves when they try to make it two in a row over the New York Yankees this year.

The hard-throwing, 21-year-old native of Santurce, P.R., was banged around in his brief Series appearance last year but appears to have come of age in the heat of the current National League race.

IN THE BRAVES' stretch drive, he has run up a 5-2 record and Thursday night yielded only one hit over 5-2-3 innings to gain credit for a 9-5, 10-inning decision over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Pizarro took over for Lew Burdette after the World Series hero was routed in a four-run fifth-inning rally by the Phillies and held them at bay until the Braves' sluggers finally caught up with relief star Dick Farrell.

PIZARRO, CARLTON Willey and Joey Jay, the three rookies brought up in mid-season when the Milwaukee staff was on the verge of collapse, now have combined for a 20-11 record that has "saved" if not won the flag for the world champions.

Pizarro's victory enabled the Braves to remain nine games ahead of the San Francisco Giants, who butchered the Los Angeles Dodgers, 13-3, in their final meeting of the season, and 9½ ahead of the rain-out Pittsburgh Pirates.

The St. Louis Cardinals beat the Chicago Cubs, 4-2, in the other N. L. game as Sam Jones surpassed Dizzy Dean's single-season club strikeout record.

THE NEW YORK Yankees were idle but increased their American League lead to 12½ games because the Detroit Tigers walloped the second-place Chicago White Sox, 11-4.
The Kansas City Athletics defeated the Cleveland Indians, 2-1, and the Boston Red Sox topped the Baltimore Orioles 5-2 in other A. L. activity.

Burdette Honored

CINCINNATI — (UP) — Lew Burdette, who took on all comers like they were only New York Yankees, was named today as the National League's "player of the month" for August.

will be put through an hour and a half of workouts every night until play starts late this month. Parents are invited to watch the practice sessions which start every night at 7 p. m. at the High School football field. (Desert Sun Photo)

Basilio to Be 4-1 Favorite Over Aragon

By JACK CUDDY
United Press International

LOS ANGELES — (UP) — Ex-champion Carmen Basilio is favored at 4-1 to win his comeback start tonight against Art (Golden Boy) Aragon in a TV 12 rounder that may set a new California gate record of more than $235,000.

Champion Sugar Ray Robinson has promised to defend his middleweight crown against the winner in January or February — if he doesn't retire.

WHEN CRAGGY - FACED Basilio squares off against swarthy, black-haired Aragon of Los Angeles at Wrigley Field at 7 p.m. (p.d.t.), their duel of left-hookers will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC.
There'll be a TV blackout on a radius of 300 miles from the ring. Cal and Aileen Eaton, the husband promoting team, expect a crowd of more than 21,000 for this match between Basilio of Chittengo, N. Y., probably the world's most popular fighter today, and the very unpopular Aragon.

"ARROGANT ART" thrives on unpopularity as did ex-heavyweight champion Jack Sharkey back in the 1930s. The fans — particularly Los Angeles Mexicans — come by the thousands to see him get "moldered."

Aragon, 30, alienated the Mexicans early in his career by announcing: "I'm pure Spanish — not Mexican." And he ranked other followers of the sweet science by his "wrestling - villain" conduct in the ring and his escapades outside it.

BUT HIS unpopularity paid off and made him the "Golden Boy" to the tune of nearly two million dollars in gates during his 14-year career. He turned professional at 16. He is the greatest drawing card in California ring history.
Basilio, 31, is making his first start since he lost the 160-pound crown to Robinson by a split decision at Chicago March 25. In that fight, Carmen suffered such a gorily closed left eye that he spent nine days at Chicago's Wesley Memorial Hospital for treatment.

Dodgers Meet Cards Tonight

ST. LOUIS (UP) — Los Angeles opens against the St. Louis Cardinals tonight on the Dodgers' final 16-game road swing through the East.

Left-handed Fred Kipp (5-4) was assigned the starting role for Los Angeles against Vinegar Bend Mizell (9-10) in the first game of a three - game series with St. Louis.

Dickerson Said Improved Today

LOS ANGELES — (UP) — Coach George Dickerson, hospitalized last week with "nervous exhaustion" was reported showing improvement today at the UCLA Medical Center.

$-MILLION YACHT AIDS VIEWPOINT

By HAL WOOD
United Press International

VANCOUVER, B. C. (UP) — The baby faced man lolled comfortably on sportsman Max Bell's million dollar yacht as we cruised through the Georgia Strait toward open water.

"I can remember when I didn't have things so comfortable on this water," said Jimmy McLarnin, one-time world's champion lightweight boxer.

"When I was a kid living in Vancouver we used to go out on those salmon boats to work. We got paid 30 cents for each salmon we caught."

McLARNIN, NOW a very young looking 50 years of age, is a well-to-do Hollywood business man. He doesn't bear a scar for all the poundings he took in the ring, despite the fact that he fought some of the toughest.

"Meanest fights I ever had, the ones that took more out of me than any other, were the three with Billy Petrolle, the old Fargo Express," Jimmy recalled.
"I won two, lost one. He was one of the greatest body punchers of all time, although he never won a title. After one of our fights I remember that my stomach bled for three weeks.

"THAT BOY TOOK a lot of punches to the head and if ever a fighter should have wound up punch-drunk, Billy was the lad."

"But they tell me that now he is worth 20 million bucks, with big investments in banking and foundries."

The powerful yacht cut through the rough waters and then slowed to a halt to let golfer Billy Casper off into a small boat so he could troll for salmon.

"YOU KNOW, QUITE a few men in the sports world do all right for themselves," mused Jimmy. "Johnny Longden, the jockey, hooked up with this fellow, Max Bell, who owns this yacht. They have some oil interests in Alberta, plus a racing stable."

"And that boy out there fishing, Casper, does all right for himself, too."

Longden is rated to be worth a million or two. Casper is making an average of $50,000 a year. Golfer Dick Mayer, in the same yachting party, made $100,000 or more last year.

Yes! When you're cruising on a million dollar yacht, all the world takes on a rosy hue.

Oregon's Chances for PCC Title Depends on Backfield

By HOWARD APPLIGATE
United Press International

EUGENE, Ore. — (UP) — If some green backfield talent comes through, the University of Oregon has a fine chance to finish its final Pacific Coast Conference football season on or near the top.

Twenty-one returning lettermen including All-American end candidate Ron Stover reported to Coach Len Casanova for practice Sept. 1. These included 14 linemen and five starters from the Rose Bowl game Jan. 1 in which Oregon lost 10-7 to Ohio State.

PER CUSTOM, Casanova sent his entire squad on a one-mile run and then scrimmaged them the first day of practice. "They looked like they came to play," said the coach.

Oregon surprised the football world last season by finishing in a tie with Oregon State for the PCC title and then putting up such a great battle against three-touchdown favorite Ohio State at Pasadena.

BUT CASANOVA lost three of the top backs in the West, including Jack Crabtree, voted the top player in the Rose Bowl game; Jim Shanley, the leading ground gainer in Oregon history, and speedy fullback Jack Morris, an outstanding blocker and extra point kicker.

Quarterback is the big question mark at Oregon. Casanova has starter Charley Tourville and junior Willie West lined up for halfbacks and Marlan Holland at fullback. But Holland saw little service offensively last season.

THE TOP QUARTERBACK candidates are Dave Grosz, an untested soph from Kent, Wash., who sat out last season; Sandy Fraser, the No. 2 man last year, and Paul Grover, a sophomore who played mostly defense. Grosz showed up well in spring practice as a passer and could nail down the job. But his lack of experience could hurt. Fraser is a fine defensive player, a good runner and better-than-average passer.

Another backfield candidate is Harry Needham from Antelope Valley J. C., who at 190 is the biggest fullback on the squad. Dave Powell, up from the reserves last year, also could help there. Other backfield lettermen returning are halfbacks Len Read and Don Lundenslager.

In Stover, who caught 10 passes in the Rose Bowl game, Casanova has an outstanding end who also is a fine blocker and defensive man. Stover is 6-3 and weighs 200.

COOPER AND Fraser clash in one semi-final Saturday and it figured to be Anderson and Schmidt in the other.

It was a different story in women's singles, where two Americans already were in the semi-finals and at least one more was a heavy favorite to make it today.

Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., reached the semi-finals by defeating Sally Ann Moore of Bakersfield, Calif., 6-4, 6-3, and Jeanne Arth of St. Paul joined her by upsetting second-seeded Dorothy Head Knobe of Forest Hills, 6-3, 6-2.
